

Fusion (Part 2 of Mental Damnation)

Just over two days have passed since Krista has been diagnosed with the nightmare enhancing brain disease Mental Damnation; the symptoms are more self-evident than ever to Dr. Alsroc who continues to pursue a cure. Yet the odds of finding one are not in their favor. Krista is now burdened with protecting her friend Marilyn's dark secret and Paladin's pressuring offer. He promises her safekeeping at the price of exposing her people's history to him, what will he use that knowledge for? Malpherities, Krista's ghostly companion urges her to keep her mind focused on Dreadweave Pass and ignore her issues at the High Barracks of Zingalg. The two are forced to partner with an immoral paladin who has a personal interest in helping Krista escape from hell while the corrupt god, the Weaver, strains for his army to find the young girl. They send a fallen angel who is determined to bring her to the Weaver so the corrupt god can use her blood in his necromantic ritual that will set him free to obtain the vengeance he desires!
