

The Economics of Terrorism (The International Library of Critical Writings in Economics series, #314)

The evolving field of the economics of terrorism has been, and continues to be, the subject of much research. Professor Enders, in this authoritative collection, provides the reader with a selection of seminal articles and excerpts that chart the development of this topic over the past four decades. Along with an original introduction by the editor, the areas covered include terrorist motives, types and organizations, education and poverty, the costs of terrorism, and counter-terrorism and substitution effects. This indispensable research collection will be of immense value to both students and practitioners with an interest in this topical subject. 35 articles, dating from 1978 to 2014. Contributors include: A. Abadie, Z. Eckstein, B. Frey, A. Krueger, H. Kunreuther, A. Kurth Cronin, W. Landes, J. Piazza, D. Rapoport, T. Sandler
